

Dear Mr Thanh Nguyen Ngoc,

My site is a digital exchange platform between passionate drums. It will allow to bring together this community and to initiate beginners by giving them advice.

The site consists of a part "forum" which is under development because I am waiting for your course on MongoDB. I managed to fill all the requested spot for the assignment 1.

All lines of code were created by my hands except the different JS libraries whose script is called at the end of "index.html".

Advertising visuals, brand highlighting and color selection have been created by me and are free of rights. Photos are royalty free.

Best Regards,

Paul Le Flanchec
